

"Doin' Me Wrong" (Ray Scott)

I could be sad, I could be blue
But girl I have better things to do
Like sit right here with this cigar
And this cold beer and my brand-new start

'Cause there ain't no way I'd miss those days
Of wondering where you are
All suspicions about who you're with
In the back of some hotel bar

Getting it on
Hey, I may be alone
But there ain't nobody doin' me wrong

I ain't got to no one telling me lies
And messing around, baby, and messing up my life
I saw you with him out on the street, heh
And all I could think, baby, was better that fool than me

'Cause I ain't ever felt no better
Than the way I do right now
There ain't no worry, ain't no hurting
Ain't no stressing me out

Since you've been gone
My nights ain't been long
'Cause there ain't nobody doin' me wrong, no

No, there ain't no cheating
Ain't no sneaking
Around behind my back
Ain't no hole round here
No more, girl
I've sure gotten used to that

Since you've been gone
Yeah, I kinda love you gone
'Cause there ain't nobody doin' me wrong, no, hah

Ain't nobody doin' me wrong
No, there ain't nobody doin' me wrong (Oh, ain't nobody doing me wrong)
Oh, my nights they ain't been so long (My nights ain't long)
Ain't nobody doin'
Ain't nobody doin'
Ain't nobody doin' me wrong, wooh
